"TOM MOORE."

Two-Thirds of Proceeds to be Devoted to Red Cross.

It has now been definitely decided that the proceeds of "Tom Moore," the play to be presented by the Jesters on the afternoon of the sixteenth and the evening of the seventeenth of December, will be turned over to the Hartford Chapter of the American National Red Cross, for the relief of sufferers in the present war. One-third of the net proceeds, only, will be retained by the Jesters as a sinking fund for future ventures.

With the date of the performance but little over six weeks distant, the cast is rehearsing daily and sometimes twice a day to "make assurance double sure" that the high standard previously raised shall not be lowered. And that the atmosphere of the play may be heightened and fully sustained, each member of the cast is studying the period in which the action took place, and with special attention to the particular character assumed.

The staging of the play will also receive careful attention, and every endeavor will be made to have the settings and costumes as historically accurate as possible. W. B. George, '16, is the man responsible for this very important side of the production. He has opened negotiations with the Castle Square Theater in Boston, where the play was produced lately, and will endeavor to secure the complete settings and properties used in that production.

The play itself is charming, and full of bright lines and situations. It is from the pen of Theodore Burt Sayre, for some years one of Charles Frohman's readers. The story concerns the life and fortunes of Thomas Moore, Ireland's greatest poet, and one of the greatest lyric poets ever known. And through his youth in Ireland and his later struggles and successes in London is woven the golden thread of his romance with Bessie Dyke, the little Irish school-teacher who later achieved such a brilliant success on the English stage. The play is replete with good parts, and should prove a great success in the hands of such clever actors and actresses as the Jesters number in their ranks, and more especially so since Mrs. Henry A. Perkins has again volunteered her services as coach. Those who can remember the "Prince and the Pauper" will recall the finished character in which every one of the parts was played. And this was due entirely to the genius, enthusiasm and infinite patience with which she addressed herself to the task.

The same system of exchange tickets will be in use that was in force last year, and an early application is recommended.

ENDOWMENT BY INSURANCE.

Outline of Plan Being Adopted by Many Colleges.

The Tripod is indebted to Mr. C. B. Gale of Pittsfield for the following sketch of a scheme adopted by the class of 1914 at Williams. This same plan has been adopted by classes at many of the New England colleges.

Herewith is presented an insurance scheme, by which a class can contribute to an endowment fund for its College. The plan is as follows:

That each member of a Class take out a Twenty-Five-Year Endowment for $250, payable to the President and Trustees of Trinity College.

An average estimate of this premium would be $9.50 annually, per man. Taking as a basis a class of fifty men, this would guarantee to the College a gift of $12,500, or more at their twenty-fifth reunion.

The dividends, according to the present schedule, which would be paid annually to the College, over this period, would amount to $100 on each policy, or a total of $5,000, so that would offset any lapse of policies, which might be expected.

The advantages of the insurance plan are many.

In the first place, it places the raising of an endowment fund upon a

WESLEYAN READY FOR FRAY.

(Special from the Wesleyan Argus.)

The culminating game of the Wesleyan and Trinity seasons finds the Cardinal and Black well prepared for the annual contest. While the development during the season has been unusually slow, injuries preventing very rapid progress, the team that played Williams and that will face Trinity knows football, and has a varied attack and a strong defense that will not be easily overcome.

Captain Kenan will, of course, be the center of the offensive plays, and his success in gaining ground on straight line plunges qualifies him for the place. The strength the line has shown of late should afford him sufficient protection for punts, and attempts at drops and placement kicks. Wesleyan has used the forward pass this year with her usual good success. Markthaler in particular getting away for long gains, while Bovard and Nourse, the ends, have also handled the play well.

Wesleyan has a fairly heavy team as shown by the statistics of the players.

thoroughly systematic business basis. The collection of individual payments is handled by the insurance company,

"NOW THEN TRINITY"

Tomorrow is the day of the great battle. Trinity has a team that will play with every ounce of its strength and nerve to win. And, if it be a human possibility, win it will. Not only the team, however, but the whole college must be "in the game." Every Trinity undergraduate will, of course, be on Andrus Field tomorrow. Every single one of these men must go to Middletown with the idea very firmly and immovably rooted in his mind that Trinity cannot be defeated; and every single one of them must be helping the team, heart and voice, with every bit of his nervous energy, throughout the game. 'Twas thus that Trinity won the epic Wesleyan game of 1911. 'Tis thus—though preferably by a greater margin—we honestly believe, Trinity is to win tomorrow.

ST. ANTHONY HALL FRESHMEN.

The names of the freshmen at St. Anthony Hall are as follows: Charles B. Beach, Hartford, Connecticut; Edmond R. Hampson, Waterbury, Connecticut; John McK. Mitchell, Centerville, Maryland; Francis J. Bloodgood, Milwaukee, Wisconsin; E. J. Brenock Hyland, Utica, New York; N. Parker Holden, Detroit, Michigan; Charles F. Ives, Detroit, Michigan.

1917 MEETING.

A meeting of the Sophomore Class was held on Saturday, November 7th, at 12.45 in the Economics Room.

The meeting was called to order by President McKay, who announced that the business to come before the class was the assessment for the Sophomore Hop. Mr. Bradley spoke, saying that the Senate favored a reduction in the assessment. There was much discussion on the question. Finally, upon motion, the assessment was reduced from five dollars to three dollars and a half.

Some discussion then arose as to the credentials of class membership over one of those present. Since he had been to no other college, and despite the fact that he had the credits of a sophomore he was notified that he was a freshman on the campus, and notified to act accordingly. He thus lost his place on the class debating team and was succeeded by S. Hungerford, '17.

The meeting then adjourned.

NEW ENGLAND INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS.

(Special from the Wesleyan Argus)

Wesleyan has inaugurated a plan by which the advantages of a training table may be secured without incurring any additional expense. The men on the football squad eat together at one of the fraternity houses. Each house takes the table for two days, and during that period sends to each of the other houses, a number of its members equal to the number the second house has on the squad.

Wesleyan's two honorary Senior Societies now have houses. Mystic Seven built three years ago. Skull and Serpent will dedicate their new tomb within a few weeks.

1916 MEETING.

A meeting of the class of 1916 was called on Friday, November sixth, principally for the purpose of electing a secretary and treasurer for the Junior Prom. Committee. J. L. Cole was elected. Plans for the Prom. were discussed.

ENDOWMENT BY INSURANCE.

thereby relieving the permanent secretary of a burdensome task and collection is, at the same time, rendered more certain, for it is a well known fact that a man will pay an insurance premium before he will meet any other form of subscription blank.

Another advantage of this plan is that, while under most plans, as the years go by, the financial burden falls on the remaining few, under this plan as soon as a member dies his policy is matured at once and paid over to the College.

Again, under this plan, the College is sure of an unrestricted amount of money at a certain date, and, should subsequent classes fall in line, in accordance with this scheme, a re-occurring cycle of contributions is set in motion, and the College will thus in time secure a practically unlimited endowment fund.

Moreover, at the same time, the students will as a body be rendering their Alma Mater a peculiarly fitting remembrance for value received during their four years of education.

Several of the colleges of New England have, after careful study and consideration, taken up this plan, and it is by no means new and untried.

1913 NOTICE.

A "1913 Get Together" will be held at the University Club, Wednesday, November 18th. Any 1913 men who can be present are requested to notify the secretary, W. P. Barber, Jr.

ALUMNI ENGLISH PRIZES.

Professor Adams wishes to call the attention of those who intend to try for the Alumni Prizes in English to the fact that the subjects and outlines must be approved before December tenth and that the candidates should see either him or Professor Stonex as soon as possible. The essays must be submitted immediately after the Christmas holidays. There are three prizes of twenty-five dollars, twenty dollars, and fifteen dollars, respectively.

APROPOS OF CUTS.

Mr. Welling wishes to announce that anyone desiring to find out about his cuts, may see him on Tuesdays and Thursdays in Williams Hall.

NOTICE.

Why Should I Smoke TUXEDO?

TUXEDO is the logical smoke for millionaires because it is impossible to buy a better tobacco.

Tuxedo is the logical smoke for
the economical man because there are 40 pipefuls in a ten-cent tin—
making the average cost per pipeful
only one-fourth of a cent!

To buy cheaper tobacco means to get less pleasure out of smoking, because it is impossible to make a tobacco as good as Tuxedo at less than the Tuxedo price!

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

Tuxedo is made of only the finest,
choicest selected leaves of perfectly aged Burley tobacco. It is made by the original "Tuxedo Process"
which takes all the unpleasantness out of tobacco and leaves all the pleasantness in!

Tuxedo has a deliciously mild, fragrant aroma that is pleasant to all. It is the only tobacco you can smoke in a room full of lace curtains without leaving even a trace of odor.

A trial will convince you that Tuxedo is superior to every other tobacco you have ever smoked. Buy a tin—today.
